Ned,

Thanks for your email and voicemail. I was out for the past few days, but am settling back in and attempting to diminish the size of the "to-do" pile on my desk. As for the permit review, last Friday I received comments from the rest of the deep injection well team and will be incorporating them over the next few days. I hope to have a draft of the permit ready for Shell and Solano County's review and comments by the end of next week. If that appears to be overly ambitious, I will let you know, but give or take a few days, that's about when I expect to have a draft. If you have any questions, please let me know. I did have one question -- was Shell's VEF response sufficient for your Risk Assessment? I found that it was a thorough report, but wanted to see what Solano County's response was. Thanks a lot.

-Adam
